3. Performance Reviews and Appraisals

Formal performance appraisals are conducted annually. Each employee receives a Performance Rating of Exceeds Expectations, Meets Expectations, or Needs Improvement, which factors into merit increases and Variable Pay. Employees can view their last and next appraisal dates in the HR system.

8. Salary Revisions

Salary revisions are considered annually as part of the appraisal cycle and are based on individual performance rating, role benchmarking, and company performance. Off-cycle revisions require approval from the Department Head and Human Resources.

9. Malus and Clawback

Variable Pay already paid out may be subject to clawback if an employee is found, within 3 years of payout, to have engaged in gross misconduct, fraud, or a proven violation of the Code of Conduct that caused material harm to Orbis.

10. Confidentiality of Compensation Information

Compensation details are confidential and shared only with the employee, their manager (for role-relevant decisions), and Human Resources. Employees must not disclose their own or others' compensation to unauthorized parties.
